

ABOUT NCCRC

The North Country Community Recreation Center (NCCRC) became a 501(c)(3) nonprofit in September 2002. Its roots stretch back to mid-20th-century community efforts to build a local swimming pool—an early example of the region's creativity, collaboration, and resilience.

When the Center closed in March 2020 during the COVID-19 pandemic, the region lost an important hub for health and wellness. In the years since, community leaders and partner organizations have worked together to reimagine how the NCCRC can best serve the region moving forward.
